ENI S.p.A.'s view with regards to the Draft Decision of ACM on the implementation of NC-TAR

Case number ACM/23/181941

14 December 2023

Eni is an Italian company that sells and delivers natural gas to industrial consumers in the Netherlands through its Belgian Branch.

We hereby inform you that Eni is not in favour of:

- An unconditional increased storage discount, because we think that a storage discount should be conditioned on a quantitative assessment demonstrating the benefits for the market; and
- the proposed discount on LNG entry capacity, as it is discriminatory towards entries from production and pipeline gas, which also help secure the supply of gas.
